

THE POWER OF PLACE:

Authentic Learning Through Place-Based Education

with: Tom Vander Ark, Emily Liebttag and Nate McClennen

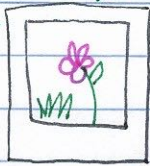

Why Place?
 learning has to be fundamentally based on place where young people are coming from, live

Learning is happening EVERYWHERE not just brick and mortar buildings plant identification

water cycle

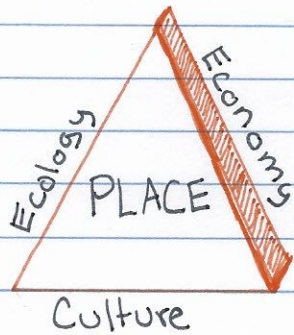

wildlife

use where you live as learning inspiration farming

environment

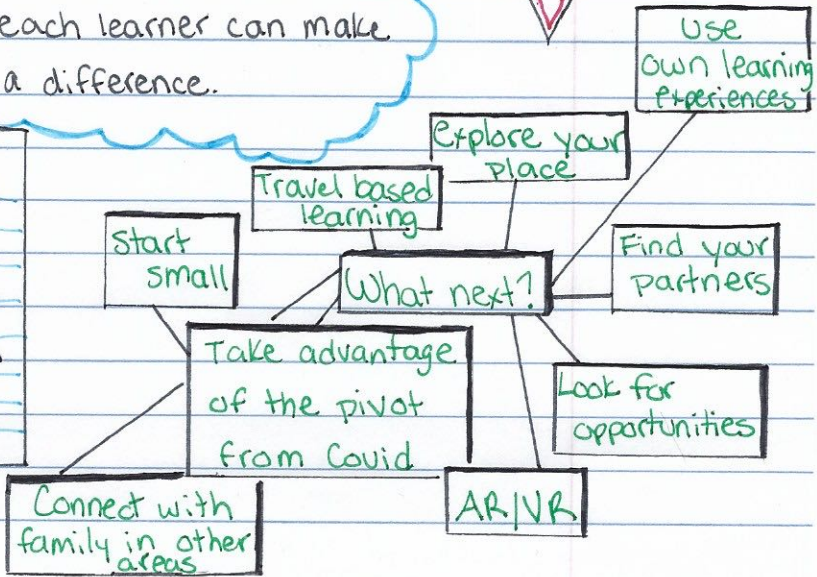

Agency
 Community
 Equity

each learner's place must be considered. each learner can make a difference.

Place-based education is anywhere, anytime learning that leverages the power of place to personalize learning

- Design Principles
- Community as classroom
 - inquiry based
 - Learner-centered
 - Local to global context
 - design thinking
 - interdisciplinary approach

Use own learning experiences

Explore your place

Travel based learning

Start small

What next?

Find your partners

Take advantage of the pivot from Covid

Look for opportunities

AR/VR

Connect with family in other areas